

Trevor Austin, Warrant Officer 2nd Class (Yeoman of Signals), Royal Marines.

Currently employed as the lead communications planner for the UK's premier brigade headquarters, 3rd Commando Brigade Royal Marines based in Plymouth, Devon. With over 24 years of tactical and strategic communications experience with both the British Army and Royal Marines; the last 9 Years as a Yeoman of Signals. Recently returned from Op HERRICK 14, Afghanistan where I led the team that planned and implemented the introduction of for the first time a data capability to the mobile tactical environment within the UK led Task Force in Helmand. Now regenerating the Brigades communications capability in line with Defence Tasks to enable contingency type operations for the UK's deployable Amphibious capability.