

Floris van Delft (PhD), founder and CSO of SynAffix, received his MSc and PhD (cum laude) from Leiden University (the Netherlands). Later appointments involved a postdoctoral research position at the Scripps Research Institute (San Diego, USA) and an assistant professorship at the University of Amsterdam, before becoming associate professor at the Radboud University Nijmegen. His main scientific interests lies in click chemistry and protein conjugation technologies. In 2012, he shifted his professional activities full-time to SynAffix. Van Delft has (co)authored >120 peer-reviewed publications and 14 patents.